

REARRANGEMENT OF POSTOFFICE

Better Conveniences Provided for Employees and the Public.

HAS 150 EMPLOYEES

Alterations to Be Made Will Cost $19,600 and Insure Improved Service.

An improvement in postal service will be effected by the alterations now in progress at the Tulsa post office as the alterations will give postal employees more and better arranged working space, according to John H. McGee, superintendent of mails.

A door now being cut in the vestibule of the workroom at the rear of the postoffice will permit immediate unloading of incoming mail into the receiving chute. Hitherto wagons with incoming and outgoing mail have been unloaded and loaded in the same vestibule, thus causing delay. The alley back of the postoffice is also to be paved.

Incoming parcel post mail for distribution through the city will hereafter be handled in a parcel post room to be arranged in the basement. The parcels will be unloaded in the workroom and dispatched to the parcel post room through a chute to be cut in the floor. A stairway leading from the main work room floor to the parcel post room in the basement will be installed.

An employees' entrance opening from the alley into the main workroom and adjacent to the entrance to the carriers restrooms, will also be made. At present some 150 employees, a number of whom are mail carriers with 30 or 35 pound loads, enter and exit by one door. The second entrance for employees will save time and eliminate confusion.

The assistant postmaster's office, now outgrown its bounds, will be enlarged by the addition of about 12 feet of workroom space.

The money order and registry division is to be extended back, giving room at the front for two additional sections of mail boxes and for a retail stamp and a C. O. D. delivery window. The two additional sections of boxes will be provided with large bins, as a number of local business firms receive an amount of mail in excess of the size of the boxes. The addition of a wholesale stamp window will be of value to the public as there is only a retail stamp window at present and purchase of a one cent stamp or 50 worth of stamps must be made at the same window. Alterations will total $19,600 in cost. They are in charge of the superintendent of the King Lumber company of Charlottesville, Va., and a supervising architect from the treasury department.

Never cut the cuticle. Cutting makes rough, ragged edges and causes hangnails a few days after manicuring.

With a bit of absorbent cotton wrapped around the end of an orange stick and dipped in Cutex, work around the base of the nail, gently pushing back the cuticle. Wipe off the dead cuticle and wash the hands.

The wrong and the right way to manicure

Apply Cutex Nail White underneath nails directly from tube.

Cutex Nail White gives the nails a brilliant water-proof finish.

NEVER cut the cuticle. When it is trimmed, the skin about the base of the nail becomes dry, ragged. It roughs up, forms hangnails and makes your whole hand unattractive.

All specialists agree that in caring for the nails your effort should be to keep the cuticle unbroken. Cutex was scientifically prepared to meet the need for a harmless cuticle remover. It makes it possible for you to have shapely, symmetrical nails without clipping or cutting. It is absolutely harmless. The moment you use it, you realize you have at last found the one simple, successful way to take care of the cuticle.

Until you have used Cutex, you cannot realize what a great improvement even one application makes; you cannot know how attractive your nails can be made to look.

Cutex Cuticle Remover, Nail White, Nail Polish and Cold Cream are each 35 cents. The Cuticle Remover comes also in 65 cent bottles. You can get Cutex in any drug or department store in the United States, Canada and in any chemist shop in England.

Six Manicures for 20 Cents

For twenty cents we will send you the Cutex Introductory Manicure Set, not as large as our standard set but containing enough of the Cutex preparations for at least six complete manicures.
